Dear DNR:

I am writing to thank you for making your parks not only handicap accessible but for having wheelchairs available for public use.

This past July my family rented a cottage up north. We took a day trip to Tahquamenon Falls. My grandma, Rose Spagnuolo, who is 95 years old was with us. She is still able to walk on her own but there was no way that she could handle the trails all the way to the viewing area. We were so pleased to find out that there were wheelchairs available for our use. Instead of staying in the restaurant area she was able to come along with us and see the beautiful falls – a place she had never been to before. My grandma was so happy. Her daughter, grandchildren and great-grandchildren surrounded her. It was a very special day for all of us.

Enclosed are a few pictures taken while at the falls.

Thank you again. Michigan's State Parks are a treasure!

Sincerely,
